

An existence theorem for inextensible nets with slack

Roberto Paroni

Università di Udine

A proof of the existence of solutions for the energy minimization problem for nets formed by two families of fibers that can grow shorter but not longer is given.